STUDYING RAILROAD ECONOMY.

New York, Oct. 14.-Falling off in rallway

English Managers Come to United States for Pointers. REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

earnings in Great Britain during the last year has incited the managers of the principal railway systems there to take up the question of economy very seriously.

The admitted fact that the American rail-The admitted fact that the American railroads are producing greater results at less cost has made the American methods an object of study. Several English railway men have already been in the country for purposes of observation and inquiry.
The latest visitors of this class reached here on the steamship Celtic yesterday, and comprise George S. Gibbs, general manager of the Northeastern Railway of Great Britain, and Philip Burtt, Charles A. Harrison, T. M. Newell, Wilson Worsdell and Norman
D. MacDonald, representatives of the same company. These gentlemen intend to look into the American methods of railroading
as closely as possible.

EXPERIMENT A FAILURE.

Public Sentiment Was Opposed to Girls Acting as Messengers.

Bridgeport, Conn., Oct. 14.-The experiment of employing young girls instead of boys in the messenger service of the West-ern Union Telegraph Company and the American District Messenger Company, which the local manager instituted last week, has been abandoned. There are several reasons for this action, There are several reasons for this action, the first being the decision of Miss Jennie Lyons, the 16-year-old girl, that she had quite enough of the service to satisfy her desire for experience. Another reason was the continued advertisements for girls, which were not responded to as promptly as the manager expected, and, lastly, public criticism, which arose from the contemplation of hiring girls to perform work which many people believe in a few months made blase men of the world of boys of tender age.

DECIDES AGAINST BOARD.

Prison Managers Restrained From Annulling Contract. PEFUBLIC SPECIAL

Little Rock, Ark., Oct. 14.-Chancell B. Martin to-day rendered a decision in the case of the Arkansas Brick Company against the State Penitentiary Board, directing a decree be entered to set aside the order of the board for its cancellation, and restraining the board and the superintend-ent and financial agent from taking any steps to annul the contract or to carry into execution the order heretofore made by the execution the order heretofore made by the board, and made effective to-morrow.

The Court holds that the Penitentiary Board cannot annul the contract, and they are restrained from attempting to annul it or refusing to enforce it until its invalidity or illegality shall be passed upon and declared by some tribunal of competent fursidiction, an authority to annul it, which means that its validity must be tested in the courts.
